

LOVE IN ACTION

WIVES TO HUSBANDS

Accept your husband as your leader and let him know you appreciate his leadership qualities.

Stay interested in what he has set for life goals.

Give him undivided attention when he is talking to you.

Let your husband know that you need him as your protector.

Be content with what he is able to provide, regardless of your living situation.

Let him make final decisions and never say "I told you so"

Be loyal to him in everything. Trust his spiritual insight and don't choose other men's spiritual leadership over his.

Pray for him with your children - this will build their loyalty to him as the Dad.

Agree with him on appropriate discipline for the children. He is responsible to God for them.

Tell him you love him.

Be excited and celebrate when he has great success and achievements.

Teach the children to listen and be attentive to Daddy when he speaks about his day.

Make your husband your friend and confidant.

Always speak highly of your husband in the presence of others.
